Important Regulations in Relation to Army Trains and Baggage.

WAR DEPARTMENT ADU'T GEN'LS OFFICE! WARHINGTON, Oct. 18, 1862. General Orders, No. 160.

The following regulations are catablished for army trains and baggage:

7. There will be allowed—

For headquarters' train of an Army Corps, four wagons; of a Division or Brigade, three; of a full Infantry Regi-ment, sit; and of a Light Artillery Bat-coeded; but always proportionably reduced according to the officers and men actually present. All surplus wagons will be turned ever to the Chief Quarterof the Commanding Generals, into supply | martial. trains, or sent to the nearest depot.

The requisite supply trains, their size depending upon the state of the roads and on their march; and whoever shall and character of the campaign, will be organized by the Chief Quartermaster, with the approval of the Commanding ponds, houses, or gardens, corn-fields, of such persons on or being within any Generals, subject to the control of the inclosures of meadows, or shall maliciously place occupied by rebel forces, and af-

Regimental Surgeon; the one for regi- eral court-martial. mental headquarters will carry the grains their own teams.

Stores in bulk and ammunition will be carried in the regular or special supply trains.

3. In active campaign, troops must be follows: For the headquarters of an army corps, division, or brigade, one wall tent to the Commanding General, and one to every two officers of his staff. For the Colonel, Field, and Staff of a full regiment, three wall tents, and for every other commissioned officer, one shelter tent each. For every two non-commissioned officers, soldiers officers' servants, and authorized camp followers, one shelter tent. One hospital tent will be allowed for office purposes at corps headquarters, and one wall tent at those of a division or will be left in depot.

4. Officers' baggage will be limited to blahkets, one small valise or carpet-bag, and a moderate mess kit. The men will and reduce the contents of their knapsacks as much as possible.

The Depot Quartermaster will provide storage for a reasonable amount of officers' surplus baggage, and the extra-clothing and knapsacks of the men.

5. Hospital tents are for the sick and wounded, and except those allowed for army corps headquarters, must not be diverted from their proper use.

6. Commanding officers will be held responsible for the strict enforcement of these regulations, especially the reduction of officers' baggage within their respective commands.

7. On all marches, Quartermasters, under the orders of their commanding officers, will accompany and conduct their trains in a way not to obstruct the movement of troops.

8. All Quartermasters and Commissaries will personally attend to the reception and issue of supplies for their com-mands, and will keep themselves informed of the condition of the depot, roads; and other communications.

9. All Quartermasters and Commissaries will report, by letter, on the first of every month, to the chiefs of their respective departments at Washington, D. C., their station, and generally the duty the preceding month. By command,

MAJOR-GENERAL HALLEON. L. THOMAS, Adjutant General.

A PROCLAMATION,

By the President of the United Washington, Sept. 22, 1862. I, Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States of America, and Commander-in-chief of the Army and Navy thereof, do hereby proclaim and declare, tive spheres of service, the Article and that hereafter, as heretofore, the war will be prosecuted for the object of practicalbrigade. All tents beyond this allowance by restoring the constitutional relations all citizens of the United States who between the United States and the peo- shall have remained - loyal thereto ple thereof in which States that relation is or may be suspended or disturbed; that carry their blankets and shelter tents, it is my purpose upon the next meeting of Congress to again recommend the adoption of a practical measure tendering pecuniary aid to the free acceptance or rejection of all the slave States, so salled, the people, whereof may not then oe in rebellion against the United States and which States may then have voluntarily adapted, or thereafter may voluntarily adopt, an immediate or gradual abolishment of slavery within their respective limits; and that the efforts to colonize persons of African descent, with their consent, upon the continent, or elsewhere, with the previously obtained consent of the Government existing there, will be continued. That on the first day of January, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and sixtythree, all persons held as slaves within any State, or within any designated part of a State, the people whereof shall then be in rebellion against the United States, shall be then, thence farward and forever free, and the Executive Government of the United States, including the military and neval authority thereof, will on which they have been engaged during recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons, and will do no act or acts to repress such persons, or any of them, in any efforts they may make for their actual freedom; that the Executive will, on the first day of January aferesaid, by proclamation, designate the States, and parts of States, if any, in which the people thereof respectively, shall then be in rebellion against the United States; the fact that any State, or the people thereof, shall on that day be in good faith repres sented in the Congress of the United States by members chosen thereto at elections wherein a majority of the qualified voters of such States shall have participated, shall, in the absence of strong corroborative testimony, he deemed conclusive evidence that such State and the people thereof have not been in rebellion > against the United States. Attention is hereby called to an act of Congress, entitled an act to make an additional Article of War, approved March 13, 1862, and which act is in the words and figures following:

> "Boit enacted by the Smale and House of Representatives of the United States, in Congress assembled, That hereafter the follow the Army of the United States, and shall be obeyed and observed as such:

Article: All officers or persons in the military or naval service of the United States, are prohibited from employing any of the forces under their respective commands for the purpose of returning fu-gitives from service or fabor, who may have escaped from any person to whom such service or labor is claimed to be due, and any officer who shall be found gullty by a court martial, of violating this article shall be dismissed from the service.

Sec. 2. And le it further enacted, That this act shall take effect from and after its passage.'

Also to the 9th and 18th sections of an act entitled " an act to suppress insurrection, to punish treason and rebellion, to seize and confiscate property of rebels, and for other purposes, approved July 17th, 1862," and which sections are in the words and figures following:

SECTION 9. And be it further enacted, That all the slaves of persons who shall hereafter be engaged in rebellion against the Government of the United States, or who shall in any way give aid or comfort thereto, escaping from such persons, and taking refuge within the limits of the army, and all slaves captured from such persons, or deserted by them and coming under the control of the Government of the United States, and all slaves place occupied by rebel forces, and afterwards occupied by the forces of the United States, shall be deemed captures of war, and shall be forever free of their servitude and not again held as slaves. SEC. 10. And be it further enacted, That no

States shall be delivered up, or in any way impeded or hindered of his liberty, except for crime or some offense against the laws, unless the person claiming said fugitive shall first make oath that the person to whom the labor or service of said fugitive is alleged to be due, is his lawful owner, and has not been in arms against the United States in the present rebellion, nor in any way given aid or comfort thereto; and no person engaged in the military or naval service of the United States shall, under any pretense whatever, assume to decide on the validity of the claims of any person to the service or labor of any other person or surrender up any such person to the claimant, on pain of being dismissed from the service. And I do hereby enjoin upon and order all persons engaged in the military and naval service of the United States, to obey and enforce within their respec-Sections above recited. And the Executive will in due time recommend that throughout the rebellion, shall, upon the resoration of the Constitutional relations between the United States and their respective States and people, if the relation shall have been suspended or disturbed, be compensated for all losses by acts of the United States, including the loss of
